Breakin' it Down

Using his sweet moves and quick speed to blast past the defense, Freshman Daniel Chapman breaks down the other team. He builds up the team's confidence by scoring a basket.

2007 Tomahawk Yearbook (p. 91)

2007-08

As a sophomore, Chapman started on the JV team.

2008-09

As a junior, Chapman was a multi-position player for Okemos' district and league championship team.

Regular Season

During his years playing for the Chieftains, Okemos played in the Capital Area Activities Conference (CAAC) Blue league comprised of East Lansing, Eastern, Everett, Grand Ledge, Holt, Jackson, and Okemos. The 2008-2009 season was Chapman's first playing on the varsity squad that had as its top player senior Travis Bader who at the end of the 2009-09 season was named as Lansing State Journal Player of the Year (Source).

Below is the Lansing State Journal's prognosis for the Chieftain's upcoming season.

Okemos

- Last season: 13-9, third
- Dan Stolz, 15th season
- Returning starters: Travis Bader (6-3 F) sr., Alan Swihart (5-11 G) sr., Matt Mackenzie (6-5 F) sr., Mitch Asmus (6-4 F) jr.
- Other contributors: Mack McKearney (5-11 G) soph., Pat McKearney (5-11 G) sr., Kai Goldynia (6-2 G) sr., Quincy Lafayette (6-2 F) jr., Matt Morgan (6-4 F) jr.
- Outlook: Bader, first-team all-conference last season, is a top scorer. The Chieftains are small, but pass the ball well. With experience returning — Mack McKearney also played varsity as a freshman — they hope to contend.

Districts

On March 10, Eastern defeated No. 10 Okemos (15-5), 70-59, in a Class A district semifinal. Chapman scored 11 points on four baskets including three 3-point goals (Source).

Laurels

As a senior, Chapman served as captain for the varsity basketball team. He earned honorable mention all-conference and Academic all-league accolades. Chapman recognized his improvement as a player over his four years as a Chieftain, recalling: "I worked my way up the old fashioned way" (personal communication).

While a student at OHS, Chapman also was a three-year varsity golfer, helping guide the Chiefs team to league championships as a junior and senior. He also was senior year team captain with all-area Division I and Academic All-State honors.

Michigan State University

Chapman majored in Physiology in MSU's Honors College. He played at 6-3 ft. / 190 lb. – Combo Guard (#40). During his four-year career as a Spartan, Chapman continued to grow as a player and compete on teams with even better talent than when he played for Okemos, including players who later entered the NBA. By his senior year, one of those Spartan teammates, was widely recognized as the National Player of the Year – Denzel Valentine!

2010-11

Chapman's dream of playing for Michigan State began when he joined the Spartans as a freshman walk-on prior to the 2010-11 season.

2013-14

Before the start of the 2013-14 season, Spartans coach Tom Izzo awarded Chapman a scholarship for his senior year based on "his commitment to the program as a scout team player for three years. ... The former Chieftain [had] played in 31 minutes in 30 games over his first three years on the team. 'Chapman is my resident unbelievable pet,' Izzo said. 'He's done a great job on the scout team. I see him doing that this year. I wouldn't trade him for the world' (Source).

"I think the scholarship is definitely a huge way I feel like I was appreciated for putting in the work over four years," said Chapman, an Okemos High graduate who scored the first points of his career on Dec. 28 against New Orleans. "It kind of goes to show that the hard work you put in, even though you don't play, didn't go unnoticed."

Chapman again finished the season with an Academic All-Big Ten, while providing support at practice, from the bench, and on the court to help the Spartans set a school record of three straight weeks (11/18, 11/25, and 12/2) ranked by the AP as the #1 basketball team in the country.

Dan Chapman Honored on Senior Night against Michigan (March 16, 2014)

Big Ten Tournament

The Spartans won the Big Ten Tournament, defeating Northwestern, Wisconsin, and Michigan.

NCAA Tournament

In the NCAA Tournament the Spartans defeated Delaware, Harvard, and Virginia, before narrowly losing to Connecticut (54-60) in the East Regional Final. Sadly, this loss resulted in first senior class in Coach Izzo's 19 seasons as Spartan head basketball coach not to have reached the Final Four (Source).

On a brighter note, Chapman's 3-pointer in the Connecticut game marked the first 3-pointer of his career but also the final points of MSU's 2013-14 season. Chapman's 3-pointer also was the first time a Chieftain, playing on the Spartans men's squad, scored a basket in a NCAA Tournament—and a 3-pointer at that!

Key teammates during Chapman's senior season were Gary Harris (16.7 PPG), Adreian Payne (16.4 PPG), Keith Appling (11.2 PPG), Branden Dawson (11.2 PPG), Denzel Valentine (8.0 PPG), and Travis Trice (7.3 PPG). The squad included seven players who later went on to play professional basketball in the NBA or overseas: two seniors (Adreian Payne and Keith Appling), two juniors (Travis Trice and Branden Dawson), and three sophomores (Gary Harris, Matt Costello, and Denzel Valentine). Thus, Chapman played with, competed against, and supported some of the best ever Spartan players.

After Michigan State

Following graduation, Chapman began a Master's in Public Health program and, as of mid-2017, was on track to finish up in a year or so. Further, Dan enrolled in medical school and as of spring 2017, he wrote, "I will be starting my third year hospital rotations this July [2017]" (Dan Chapman, personal communication).

Nearly three years later (April 2020), I again reached out to Chapman for an update on his life. Amidst the Coronavirus outbreak, Dan kindly sent the following update:

I graduated with my Masters in Public Health degree from Michigan State in the spring of 2019. Also that spring, I graduated with my Medical Doctor degree from Central Michigan University College of Medicine. In March of 2019, I learned through the 2019 Residency Match that I would complete my intern year of residency (called a Transitional Year) at Beaumont Hospital in Dearborn Michigan before starting my Radiation Oncology Residency at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit.

In total, my residency will last 5 years (1 year for the intern year and 4 years as a Radiation Oncology resident). After those accomplishments, in June 2019, prior to the start of my Oncology residency, I married Emma Newton, the daughter of long-time MSU hockey assistant coach Tom Newton. I originally met Emma at Okemos High School yet did not start dating her until college (she also attended MSU). We now live in the greater Detroit area.

From a playing standpoint, if/when I have any free time, I try to play pick-up. But it has been difficult to find the time to do so. I still come back to East Lansing for football and basketball games when I can.

Sadly, I have been involved with caring for several patients affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. That said, my hospital has provided me with the resources needed to safely and effectively care for all patients at our facility even though Detroit has been decimated by the virus. (Dan Chapman, personal communication)

Looking Back

When I asked Chapman to look back on his academic and basketball experiences at Okemos High and Michigan State, he shared the following memories.

I would say that playing basketball for Okemos High opened up a new group of friends that made the high school experience much more enjoyable. Looking back, I see that the OHS Friday night basketball games were really something to be a part of for the community. It was very rewarding to be a part of those teams and in turn a part of the community in that way. Retrospectively, playing on the freshman and JV teams allowed me to get more game exposure which I think proved beneficial to my game over all.

Among Dan's more favorite memories from high school was his Chieftain's team's run to regionals as a junior.... But senior year was very enjoyable as well as I had increased minutes and scoring opportunities. A special memory was how much my parents supported me by coming to games. For high school, they were at every single game regardless of the location (never missed a game my whole life through high school). In college, they came to every home game and quite a few road games my senior year. They also came to every Big Ten tournament game and most NCAA tournament games.

Reflecting on playing basketball as a Spartan for four seasons, and some of those with two former Okemos High Chieftains (Mike Kebler and Anthony Ianni), Dan recalled:

Playing with Mike and Anthony was enjoyable and a privilege my freshmen year. Both were helpful in acclimating me to the new challenges of college sports at an elite institution. Anthony especially was helpful with this as he and I were teammates at MSU for multiple years (Mike was a senior when I was a freshman and therefore we only shared one year together).

Road trips were always enjoyable because [they] provided more time to simply hang-out and relax with my teammates, but the Big Ten and NCAA tournament games were like nothing else all season (best part of each year without question).

MSU basketball most definitely taught me the skills of hard work, leadership, and time management, all of which have been very beneficial as I have progressed through medical school.

Dan also recalled being "fortunate enough to play in two Armed Forces classic games." The first game, between Michigan State and North Carolina on November 11, 2011, was played on the flight deck of the USS Carl Vinson. The other game was played in Germany against UCONN. Those games "were awesome experiences looking back." Two other special games, Dan added, were "the State Farm classic where we most notably beat Kansas at the Georgia Dome as a junior and Kentucky at the United Center as a senior. Both were very big games and a pleasure to be a part of."

However, what "will always stick in my mind" was losing to UCONN in the NCAA East Regional Final in 2014. "It was my last game ever in the Spartan uniform [and] and eft me and my teammates, unfortunately, one game shy of [making the] Final Four." But, Dan added, "the silver lining was my made three point basket to cap off my career as time expired" (Dan Chapman, personal communication).

During his basketball career as a Chieftain or a Spartan, Chapman was a competitor as clearly evident in the photo below in which Dan wrestled with another player to control the ball in a game against a Prairie View A&M, one of the four games in which Dan played during his 2010-11 freshmen season.

Dan Chapman (#14) wrestles with Prairie View A&M player for the ball (Breslin Center - December 18, 2010)

While Chapman did not rack up a lot of on-court playing time during his four years as a Spartan, he contributed in other ways, serving on the scout team to prepare starters for their next game, always being ready to come off the bench into a game at a moment's notice, and cheering his team on from the bench.

In this regard, let's go back to the Big Ten Men's Basketball Tournament championship game between No. 3 seed Michigan State and No. 1 seed Michigan, on March 16, 2014. With 16:55 remaining in the second half and the Spartans holding a 15-point lead (44-29), Branden Dawson delivered a breakaway windmill dunk that was followed by an enthusiastic eruption from the Spartans bench (click on blurry photo below for Twitter video), led by Dan Chapman (just behind the referee). The Spartans went on to a 69-55 victory and winning the Big Ten Tournament Championship.

GREAT bench reactions on that Michigan State windmill!
